

My parent's quality of life has been better without the constant nagging phone calls from tele-marketers. They can sit down have dinner and have a conversation without the distraction.

The FCC wants to ruin that considering they censored the whole Janet Jackson debacle?

Cmon gimme a break.